UCONN Real Estate Center Spring 2022 Retirements

The Center for Real Estate announces the retirement of three of its faculty and staff for spring 2022.

Director, and professor of finance and real estate, John Glascock joined as the Center Director in August 2011. He has become known in the state as a resource for economic data and projection. John taught the EMBA, MBA and undergraduate students and received the graduate professor award numerous times.

Lucy Michaud joined the Center in January 2013 where she served as the Center's liaison to the Department of Consumer Protection, creating online courses. Lucy worked with students and realtors alike. She also worked with industry partners such as CATIC and managed the semiannual real estate instructor's seminar presenting the legislative update each fall.

Debbie Philips joined the Center in 2000 under CF Sirmans and Fran Jaffe and worked most recently with Center Director, John Glascock. Debbie served the students, alumni and industry partners to enhance the student experience and to maintain critical Center relationships. Debbie will continue for the time being, in a limited part time role with the Center.
